competition in which we had ever engaged?
Why not be magnanimous again?
Magnanimity and mercy were the noblest attributes of man. In the exercise of these high qualities I could recover my prestige. At present, I was a ridiculous figure, a thing for laughter and derision. By being merciful I could reassert the moral dignity of man and go back to my corner with honour. I withdraw the sentence of death, I said returning to my seat. I cannot kill you, but I can relieve you. I do it.

2. Explain with reference to the following passages :

The Creator had spent in its making enough of such stuff as the air and the sky are made of.

The result was that its mind was full of the desire for freedom. It would run a race with the wind, it would dash to the point where sky touched earth. Other animals ran with a purpose, but the horse raced about for no apparent reason, as though it was eager to fly away from its own self. It did not fight, it did not pounce on a prey, but loved only to run and to run. Wise men say that such a thing happens when you have too much of the wind and the sky stuff in you.

The quiet and gentle happiness which has at all times pervaded Indian life where oppression, disease and poverty have not overclouded it, will surely not vanish before the more hectic ways of the West.
